

Editor of the Annals of Psychology:

I am enclosing the manuscript entitled “Computerized Adaptive Assessment of Organizational Climate” conducted by Fernando Menéndez, Elsa Peña-Suárez, Eduardo Fonseca-Pedrero, and José Muñiz from University of Oviedo and University of La Rioja, Spain]. Computerized Adaptive Tests (CAT) constitutes a major advance in the field of the assessment of social sciences and health. It is interesting to incorporate this methodological development to organizational field. The objective of this research is to develop a CAT for evaluating the organizational climate. In order to do this, a bank of 160 items was constructed, which was administered to a sample of 3,163 workers.
