Editor of the journal Annals of Psychology:

I am enclosing the manuscript entitled "Five-factor model of personality disorders: Spanish normative data and validation" which are authors Joaquín Colodro Plaza, Juan J. López García, Laura Mezquita Guillamón, Lucía Colodro Conde, Manuel I. Ibáñez Ribes, Silvia Edo Villamon, Elena Villa Martín, and Generós Ortet Fabregat.

The manuscript is about new findings to the subject of the clinical description and diagnosis of maladaptive variants of normal personality. The specific normative data improves the interpretation of the results of a technique to estimate the personality disorders in Spanish studies from the Five-factor model perspective, meaningful in different areas of applied psychology.
